Volunteer Opportunities

Peer Counseling, Receptionists: Ruth Hoekstra

ruthhpc@gmail.com

Volunteers in this area go through extensive training and will be working one-on-one with clients who call or come in for pregnancy tests and peer counseling. This area requires a solid commitment because we schedule client appointments around our volunteer availability as well as spend extensive time in training. This area requires a one year commitment of no less than two four-hour shifts per month.

Nursing: Krista Morris, RN

krista@hopepregnancy.net

We need LPNs and RNs to provide nurse verifications of positive pregnancy tests at the Center and provide some one-on-one education for clients. Nurses of at least RN status can also be trained to perform limited ultrasounds, as resources are available. All nurses must participate in our one-day volunteer training, and are encouraged to complete the peer counseling training.

Earn As You Learn: Christina Williams

christina@hopepregnancy.net

Earn as You Learn volunteers help meet practical client needs through our emergency assistance and incentive programs. They handle a variety of tasks, such as sorting clothing donations, preparing maternity clothes orders, and working one-on-one with clients who have a need for material assistance. Clients earn points by participating in various learning opportunities in the community. EAYL volunteers verify the clients' involvement and help them shop for needed supplies in our on-site store, Josephine's Closet. One-day volunteer training required, peer counseling training recommended.

Mom2Mom Mentoring: Jenna Jimenez

jennahpc@yahoo.com

This program matches a young pregnant or parenting client with one volunteer mentor. We desire female volunteers who are strong, compassionate, and Godly women committed to pouring into the life of a young mother or mother-to-be for a one year commitment. Initial and ongoing training and support provided. One-day volunteer training required, peer counseling training recommended.

Hope for Healing: Jennifer Turner

jt.hopeforhealing@gmail.com

Hope for Healing is a post-abortive recovery ministry for those struggling with the pain associated with a past abortion experience. Our desire is to facilitate healing and restoration through confidential one-on-one and group Bible studies for women or men who have experienced abortion. Volunteers in this ministry are required to participate in a group as part of their training. Additionally, one-day volunteer training is required, peer counseling training is recommended.

Men's Ministry: Martha Sitzler

martha@hopepregnancy.net

There are a number of ways men can be involved in the work of Hope Pregnancy Center, including maintenance, building repair, groundskeeping, accounting, events, and so much more. We have a strong desire to develop a thriving men's ministry here at the Center. So far, we've had the most success when a male counseling volunteer is available to connect casually with the men who visit us along with a friend or partner. We'd love to see these impromptu connections to grow into a support group, fatherhood class, mentoring relationship, or other more organized ministry. One-day volunteer training recommended for most roles, peer counseling training required for counseling or mentoring.

Administrative: Martha Sitzler

martha@hopepregnancy.net

Volunteers in this area help do valuable paperwork, computer data entry, mailings, and many other administrative tasks that make our Center run smoothly. This area has more flexibility in hours as well as the term of commitment. Some people come in on a weekly basis, or even once or twice monthly. Others only help with special events or take projects home to complete. Based on your skills & availability, we should be able to match you with a task that needs to be done. One-day volunteer training recommended.

Events: Pamella Dill

pamella@hopepregnancy.net

We host a number of events each year, including the Purity Ball, Mother Daughter Tea, Walk for Life and the annual banquet. Events are an important part of showcasing and resourcing this ministry. Volunteers are needed to serve on individual event committees and to help with a myriad of tasks associated with these events. One-day volunteer training recommended.

If you don't see a role here that you have in mind, please let us know!

We'd love to explore that with you.
